

Exceptional Risk Advisors, LLC Announces the Launch of a New Entertainment & Sports Division

Exceptional Risk Advisors new Entertainment & Sports division to offer unique insurance solutions for exceptional disability and accident exposures.

(PRWebDirect) June 13, 2007 -- Exceptional Risk Advisors, LLC announces the formation of an Entertainment & Sports underwriting division, further extending the breadth of services it provides to elite advisors and their exceptional clients.

Edward Tafaro, Chief Executive Officer and the former President of The Hanleigh Companies, has assembled an experienced team that specializes in the development, underwriting, and processing of insurance products for prosperous Entertainers, Athletes, Hedge Fund and Private Equity Managers, Executives and other professionals. Its core product lines include High Limit Disability Income with limits exceeding $200,000 per month and Corporate Disability programs including Buy-Sell and Key Person with limits approaching $75,000,000 per person.

Exceptional Risk Advisors, based in Mahwah, New Jersey, has partnered with underwriters at Lloyd's of London, as well as with other domestic carriers, to establish unprecedented capabilities with regards to writing high limit insurance policies. "Sophisticated insurance advisors need alternative outlets, particularly with respect to placing large Key Person exposures. While the life insurance industry has a robust capacity for Key Person coverage, advisors are at a loss when it comes to the void in the disability market. Exceptional Risk Advisors is uniquely positioned to underwrite a $75,000,000 Key Person disability contract filling that void," states Tafaro.

Complex markets, such as entertainment and sports, have a large variety of risk management exposures that require a highly specialized approach and expertise. Building on the vast capabilities first developed at The Hanleigh Companies, Tafaro's team at Exceptional Risk Advisors manages in-house binding authorities and can underwrite and bind risks directly on behalf of their partners, delivering expertise, underwriting and administrative capabilities to their partners with speed and creativity not found in the marketplace.
